Stonewater Serves up Spectacular Lake Views through Stunning Slung! Doors

Vancouver, B.C. – May 1, 2008 – Moyor Development Group is working with Slung Suspended Systems Corp., the custom, one-off crafter of high-end doors and movable wall systems to maximize the spectacular views from Stonewater On The Lake's eight private residences now under construction. Stonewater is situated on beautiful Lake Okanagan in the interior of British Columbia, less than 40 kilometers from the city of Kelowna. The eight exquisite homes have been designed by New Town Architectural Services to blend seamlessly with the natural surroundings and accent the geography of the region.

Slung! Systems allow for uninterrupted views from the lakefront properties and truly bring the outdoors in. Patented flush draining sills in these top-hung doors remove all physical barriers to entry while simultaneously removing any visual barriers that would ordinarily trip up a homeowner or their sightline.

New Town is a design-based company that serves their clients with creativity and style and draw on almost a decade of experience in the region to go along with over twenty years in architecture. This is proven in their ability to produce West Coast architecture, blended with colors and materials of the Okanagan. At Stonewater, New Town called upon Slung's array of custom cladding in wood, stone, metal or aluminum, to integrate with the intended style of the homes.

Stonewater On The Lake has utilized Slung Suspended Systems Corp. to deliver a solution that showcased views whether doors are open or closed. Fourteen-foot wide doorways and a flush sill create a great sense of space, provide a connection with the stunning natural beauty of the Okanagan and offer a clear view of each owner's moorage.
